

First Circular & Call for Papers

3rd International Symposium on

AST 2019

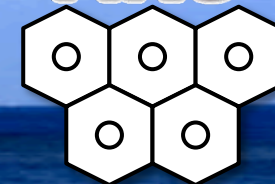

Anodizing Science and Technology

June 2-5, 2019

Awaji Yumebutai International Conference Center
Awaji Island, Hyogo, Japan

Organized by

ARS

Anodizing Research Society,
The Surface Finishing Society of Japan

Scope -Anodizing Science and Technology-

The 3rd International Symposium on Anodizing Science and Technology (AST2019), organized by Anodizing Research Society (ARS), focuses on various aspects of anodizing science and technology. The topics of interest include, but not limited to:

- Fundamental understanding of growth of anodic oxides on various metals.
- Structural and morphological control of anodic oxides.
- Self-organization process of porous oxide films on metals.
- Physical and chemical properties of anodic oxides.
- Characterization of anodic oxide films.
- Porous anodic oxide template for fabrication of nanomaterials.
- Anodizing of semiconductors and its applications.
- Surface treatments of Al, Mg and Ti using anodizing technique.
- Functional applications of anodic oxides.

Organizing Committee

Chair

Hiroki HABAZAKI (Hokkaido University, Japan)

Honorary Chair

Hideki MASUDA (Tokyo Metropolitan University, Japan)

Sachiko ONO (Kogakuin University, Japan)

Secretary General

Shinji YAE (University of Hyogo, Japan)

Important Dates

15 December, 2018 Abstract submission

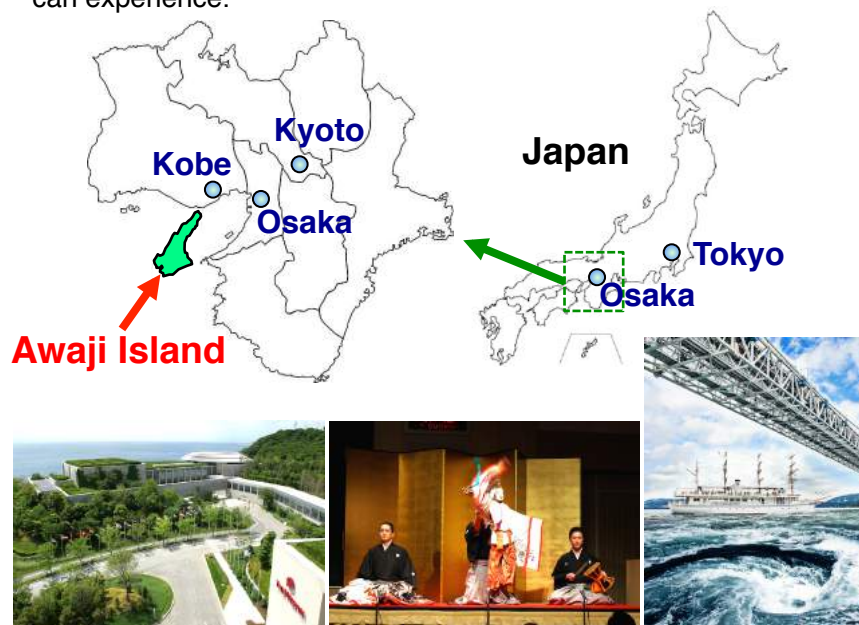

28 February, 2019 Early registration

General information on abstract submission, program, registration, and accommodation will appear on our web site:

<http://ars.sfj.or.jp/ast2019/> e-mail: ast2019@sfj.or.jp

Venue -Awaji Island, Hyogo-

The symposium will be held at Awaji Yumebutai International Conference Center, Awaji Island, Hyogo, Japan (<http://www.yumebutai.org/english/>). According to the ancient Japanese literature, Awaji Island is said to be the first island that formed for Japan. The beautiful nature, historic culture, abundant cuisine, and countless hotsprings are among the charms of Awaji Island that you can experience.

Call for Papers

The symposium will be based on a plenary lecture, keynote and invited lectures, and contributed oral and poster presentations. Those who wish to contribute to the symposium are asked to submit a one-page abstract in English before 15 December, 2018.